

Steel Band For Aruba Tomorrow

Scanned

Twelve members of the Invaders steel band, under the management of Elliott Mannette and Clarence Golston, are expected to leave Trinidad tomorrow by air for Aruba, where they will take part in a 14-day contract to play at cinemas, clubs and dance halls.

Those going are: Elliott Mannette, Kelvin Dove, Vernon Mannette, Lloyd Loreille, Bunny Duff, Vernon Duncan, Cecil Forde, Walter Sullivan, Francis Wickham, Carl Drayton, Lennox Stephen and Lennox Golston.

Interviewed by the "Trinidad Guardian" yesterday, Elliott Mannette stated that Eligio Franer had been negotiating with him from Aruba since early in February, but the trip had to be postponed because of delay in getting passports for the boys.

"Although the band is being invited on a 14-day contract we may probably stay longer, according to results," Mannette added.
