MUSIC

Holman in South

Composer/arranger/player Ray Holman made an appearance at Jazz Sundays at 110 Jazz and Calypso Lounge, 110 Cipro Street, San Fernando last Sunday.

Holman along with friends Lancelot Nicholls (guitar), Joey Samuel (drums), Michael Jermain (bass), Errol Ramah (percussions) and Mark Brewster (flute) played music for the season including local parang, standard Jazz classics as well as songs by Kitchener, Sparrow and Lord Blakie.

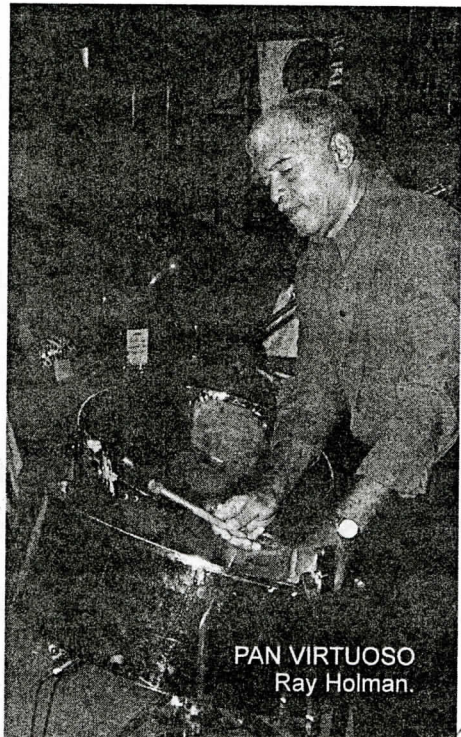

Included in the audience were musicians Junior "Ibo" Joseph, Clifford Charles, Douglas Redden, Raf Robertson, Jimi Phillip and singers Vonnnette

Bigford-Griffith and Jenny Guzza.

The audience showed great appreciation for the music played and kept asking for more as Holman's smooth styling accompanied by Nicholls' fingers dancing on the fret caused the occasional outburst.

Also caught up in the rapture of sweet music was San Fernando's Deputy Mayor Malika Baird. It was quite obvious that several persons travelled from Port of Spain and environs to San Fernando to hear Ray Holman perform.

After the performance Holman said he was very glad to see people show so much appreciation to his performance and did not mind going on when they asked.
