

ADMIRAL BEATS 'PAN'

Rear-Admiral Kinmore M. Mac Manes, Commander of the U.S. Atlantic Fleet, was fascinated with displays of limbo dancing with which personnel of seven visiting warships of his fleet were entertained.

He was so thrilled with the music played by the steelbands that he is taking home a ping-pong which he intends to learn to play. He will get the beat and tempo from the records he is taking with him.
