

TOBAGO, WEST INDIES

This is the female of the Ruby Topaze Hummingbird, double life size, feeding her chick with nectar. In two or three days they will fly away together. In Trinidad & Tobago there are many different varieties of Hummingbirds to be seen from sea level to the high mountain forests.

Produced by Key Caribbean

Norman Parkinson Copyright 414