The Ministry of Education has congratulated new University of the West Indies (UWI) Chancellor Robert Bermudez on his official installation at the institution.

Bermudez was officially installed during a ceremony on Saturday evening.

In offering his congratulations, Education Minister Anthony Garcia said the Ministry would continue to provide support in continuing a strong and dynamic relationship with the university.

"It is my hope that the Ministry of Education and by extension the Government of Trinidad and Tobago, can work with the University of the West Indies to continue the development of human resource in innovative ways that aid to strengthen the Caribbean economy," he said.

Bermudez is expected to serve in the position for the next seven years. He succeeds Sir George Alleyne who has served as UWI Chancellor since 2003.
