

Guardian 10 Mar. 1979:7.

Hillside wins $1,000 prize

SAVOY'S Hillside Symphony has won the '79 South J'Ouvert steelband "bomb" competition sponsored by John Hoyte's Auto Paint Shop, Marryat Street, San Fernando.

The 1979 version was the 10th conducted by the paint firm and Savoy will receive $1,000.

In second slot was Damus Organettes ($800); Third. Gay Hoytonians ($400); fourth, Fonclair ($300); fifth, Panasonic Connections ($200); sixth, Sounds 2001 ($100);

Seventh West Stars ($100); eighth, Oilbelt Shades ($100); ninth, Kalame Kings ($100). Special awards went to Savoy's, Gay Hoytonians and Damus Organettes.

Prizes soon will be presented to the winning bands.