

Steelpans busted in Maraval panyard

MODERN Hi-Lites of Maraval, one of the steelbands in the line-up for tomorrow's Panorama, has run into a last minute snag.

Several of the band's instruments were busted by someone wielding a piece of iron.

And so far a young man of the area has been detained by the police in connection with the incident.

Band captain Ken Diaz related that he had broken up a dice game in the panyard and then left. And when he returned he discovered that some of the pans were destroyed.

"This will seriously hamper our chances in Panorama", he said. Members put the cost of damage at $1,100.
