up the lab between POSTCARD Washington and New York.

Colors here are too vivid for my context for reality. Out of sight I can't reconstruct them. No good colored postals. No body bothers with business of that sort. Why work on good reproduction methods when you can look at the scenes? But they're relaxed, happy people, ingenious with self entertainment. New years Day we were entertained by a band in which one instrument was an old exhaust pipe—tuned perfectly.
