Celebration of the modern steel drum

PANNISTS Andy Narell and Ken "Professor" Philmore are scheduled to be a part of West Virginia University's steel-band workshop '96 from July 21-27.

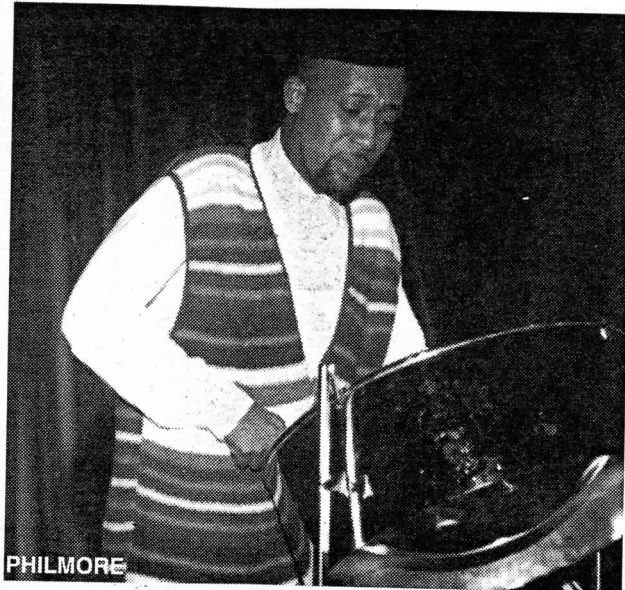

The workshop, which will also feature the unveiling of a new instrument by Narell and veteran Invaders tuner Ellie Mannette, will take place at the Creative Arts Centre, Morgantown, West Virginia, US.

During the workshops, participants will learn how to build and tune their own pans.

The six-day event is being billed as "a celebration of the golden anniversary of the modern steel drum".

For more information contact the Division of Music, College of Creative Arts, Morgantown, WV 26505, phone 304-293-5330, extension 213.
